ALL employers have a legal obligation

The Occupational Health & Safety Act requires all employers

- inform, instruct & train all employees in all the
- dangers, hazards & risks they will be exposed to while at work.
- "Employees" include casuals, contractors and sub-contractors.

This is the basis of your Health & Safety compliance programme.

ALL employees need to know how to identify, manage and protect themselves from workplace dangers, hazards & risks. The “Take Home” value from a highly experienced trainer and consultant is enormous.
