For over 20 years INTRA-TRAIN has been equipping trainers from commerce, industry, government, hospitality and education, to run their own Health & Safety training. Our development team include specialists from the Dept of Labour, NOSA [National Occupational Safety Association] and industry. We invite you to join the thousands who benefit daily from this intellectual property.

About INTRA-TRAIN

After 5 years in law enforcement and during his 5 years with NOSA, Ken Annandale discovered countless employees who had never received any health & safety induction or training. To remedy this, he founded INTRA-TRAIN, an Occupational Health & Safety Training company. In 2005, he re-launched the company as a specialist publisher of Trainer's Kits and DVDs.

Our Trainer's Kits

Cost Effective: These Training Kits and DVDs are far more cost effective than paying for third-party training or developing your own training courses. For a fraction of your training budget, you can conduct ongoing in-house training using our comprehensive Trainer's Kits.
The Right to Reproduce: No further cost. Clients are encouraged to reproduce the workbooks and train as many employees as your need at no further cost.
Massive Savings: *Group Licence to reproduce the Trainer's Kits. Eliminate the cost of Health & Safety Training permanently by buying a one-off Group/Intranet licence permitting reproduction and use of these Trainer's Kits and DVDs throughout your entire organisation. Simple to adapt.

Use our Trainer's Kits to comply with the Occupational Health & Safety legislation in your country.
